

The model puts partial charges and permanent plus induced dipoles (blue) on atoms. All electrostatic interactions are allowed, with short-ranged damping. A classical “electrostatic bond” description of the Fe-CO binding energy, and of the changes in the C-O potential, results.

